

Thank you for the opportunity to voice an opinion on this important topic. I will be short. Net neutrality is vitally important based on some fundamental principles. 1) Development of the internet was funded by taxpayer dollars and should thus be a public good – we, the people, deserve the property rights. 2) The free exchange of information increases the efficiency of market transactions that occur over the internet. 3) Allowing governments or corporations to filter information is not conducive to a democratic, free society. 4) The government (FCC et al) should not pass rules prohibiting the free exercise of speech, whether explicit or implicit. Please consider these concerns seriously. Thank you.
